Heavy Snow Fall-- Colder Weather

When Raymond residents awoke Friday morning they found a snow storm in progress and throughout the day the snow continued to fall and for most of the night falling to a depth of ten inches or a foot and falling into drifts on roads, walks and around the corners of houses. It is the heaviest snow fall in a number of years, and according to the Lethbridge Herald makes thirty inches of snowfall this fall season of 1945. This is in quite a sharp contrast to the rather wintry and snowless winters of the past few years, and all stock has had to be put on feed as the snow will not permit of any feeding in pastures or stable fields.

While Lethbridge has reported a low of 21, it was not that cold locally, the mercury falling probably to three or four below early Sunday morning but staying up to about three or four above Sunday night and Monday morning while Lethbridge reported a low of 15 below. Over the weekend roads were glazed and slippery and the snow was loose giving no traction at all to cars. It was a common sight to see a car stuck in four or five inches of snow and someone pushing it to get it rolling. The snow will assist moisture conditions for next year.

Tuberculosis deaths have been cut 42 percent in Canada, since 1927 the year the Canadian Tuberculosis Association held its first Christmas Seal sale.

With the snow covering the ground and feeding increasing teams and trucks are commencing to queue up at the pulp mill every day getting their loads while the crane is loading the pulp.

Tuberculosis is caused by a germ the tubercle bacillus, discovered in 1882 by Robert Koch. The germ is transmitted from one person to another. Often people who do not know they have the disease give it to members of their family or their associates at work.

Sewer By-Law Read at Meeting

Regular Council meeting was held Monday evening with the Mayor, all Councillors and the Town Supervisor present. The minutes of the last meeting were read and with Oishi Statement accepted. A delegation was present and after being heard a motion was passed dealing with this matter.

Archie Terry complained of cars and trucks parking in front of his place of business so that customers were unable to get in & out. He was authorized to erect parking signs to prevent parking for 16 feet in front of his shop. The Town Parking by-law was amended to require 90 degree parking instead of the present 45 degrees. This will make room for more cars.

The Police report indicated that there was a growing resentment against boot logging about town and the Secretary was asked to write to RCMP officials to see if this could be stopped.

Letters were also received regarding the sale of tobacco to minors, meeting adjourned.

The payroll was passed and the meeting adjourned.

PENICILLIN FROM

CANADIAN FARMS

Canadian farmers will soon be playing an important part in the control of such diseases as typhoid and dysentery. Milk sugar extracted from whey and fed to the penicillin mould from which penicillin is refined, will be used to produce the new wonder drug, streptomycin, the Dominion Department of Agriculture has announced.

Canadian drug manufacturers are understood to be planning full scale production of streptomycin in the near future. This drug is outstandingly effective against diseases caused by gram negative bacteria, compared with few of which are suppressed by penicillin.

Production of both drugs in Canada has been made possible by the Dominion Department of Agriculture, organizing the collection of whey from cheese factories in parts of Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec. Transported in tank trucks to a condensary in New York State, the whey is processed into milk sugar and whey powder. Most of this milk sugar and some of the whey powder returns to Canada, the sugar for use in drugs and baby foods and the powder for enhancing the vitamin content of livestock feeds.

Tens of millions of pounds of Canadian whey have been converted to these special products in the past two and one half years.

Our High School Basketball teams were in Lethbridge Friday night last in two exhibition games, the seniors winning by a score of 39-29 and the Juniors playing to a 25 all tie.

Addressing the annual convention of the Alberta Farmers Union held in Edmonton last week, O. S. Longman, deputy minister of agriculture, says the attainment of happy prosperous and permanent farm homes on the prairies has not been realized in full due to the almost unrestricted freedom of disposal of land, which has brought about a number of evils including land speculation. As a result, agriculture has experienced periods of fluctuating investment values and risks. After the first war land values were inflated out of all proportion to their productive values. Then followed the deflation, tax delinquency, foreclosures, transfer of much land from private to corporate control.

The stage is being set for a repetition of that experience, in this case largely by another unsuspecting generation, said Mr. Longman.

Mr. Longman said that land ownership is a worthy ideal but a theory which in practice often results in the prospective owner becoming a victim rather than a beneficiary. The owner is ever desirous of disposing of his holding at a profit. His farm planning, his improvement and management programs frequently reveal this intention. To design a lifetime agricultural program under such conditions is difficult if not futile.

Mr. Longman said that so far in Canada there has not been designed a leasehold as an adequate substitute for the sale agreement or owner ship. He thought such a leasehold should provide security of tenure through the active life of a farmer for a maximum of fifty years. It should be self-liquidating when purchase is agreed on, that a cash rental should be the basis and the rental be a multiple of the tax levy and not crop share. —Wheat Pool Budget.

Emergency Housing In Britain

While Britain's plans for a full post war rebuilding programme are complete, it is recognized that a large number of rapidly constructed homes will be required immediately after the war. To serve this purpose, in addition to a comprehensive scheme for re-conditioning existing houses, the British Government have decided to build half a million emergency temporary houses. These are mass-produced in factories and erected on selected sites in a few days.

Although intended to stay as temporary homes, these houses are provided with all the benefits of modern science, while the rents are kept within the means of the workers. Hanging wardrobes, cupboards in all rooms, a hinged dining table, a refrigerator, an economical water heating system, and bedrooms heated by air ducts, are a few of the features which will please all housewives.

This picture shows the bedroom cupboards of pressed steel with mahogany plywood panels. The centre cupboard is a hanging wardrobe and the others have steel shelves.

OUR PROPOSED SEWER
Mr. Citizen, what is your attitude respecting the proposed sewer plan? Are you going to support it and help the Town to progress, or is your mind made up to oppose it because of added frontage tax, and possibly a slight increase in property tax over a period of years?

for an improvement that we will not be able to use. We hope before many years we shall be able to benefit by it. But in the meantime, if it means progress for the town, we are willing to make our contribution toward this end.

Every town and city has to levy burdens somewhat unequally in order to obtain these utilities. Ratepayers on the outskirts pay taxes for utilities that they do not get to use when first installed, but nearly always the utilities extend to them in the course of a few years. Then too, those who get the direct benefit of these utilities are assessed additional taxes. They pay a frontage or per annum tax for the benefits they receive. Indirectly, a sewer system will benefit the entire town. It will eliminate many of our foul smelling septic tanks. It will take a lot of water to the disposal plant that otherwise would run down our surface drains and hereby aggravate our high water table.

ed plan ask some of the Council to explain where it is going, what it will cost, the cost to you personally and the benefit to the Town as a whole. Don't let the talk of the uninformal cause you to oppose a movement that will be good advertising for the Town and be a benefit to every resident and taxpayer of Raymond.

to reduce cost of production it to do everything possible to increase the yield and quality of farm crops. The use of the best seed of the most suitable varieties, the use of suitable commercial fertilizers, the use of cultural practices which will control weeds, the treatment of soil to control disease and the adoption of a diversified crop rotation which will increase soil fertility in the soil and makes use of grasses and legumes. Above all, the fertility of the soil is involved. In brief, the practice of improved and modern farming methods will reduce cost of production to the lowest possible minimum under existing conditions.

A sound plan which takes into consideration the possibilities of drought, frost, lower prices, the weed problem, labour difficulties, and all the other difficulties to which agriculture is heir may result in a farmer not being one of those who may be forced to liquidate when markets are low or when drought strikes.

The next few years may be the most critical in the history of agriculture. A workable and efficient plan of operation for the farmer is the best safeguard against any uncertainty.

PLANNING THE 1946 FARMING OPERATIONS

(Experimental Farms News)

Farming at its best involves many hazards, says G. E. DeLong, Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, Alberta. Planning is as necessary and important in farming as in any other business enterprise. Farm planning assumes increasing importance for the abnormal conditions which may prevail during the post war period, during which the price cycle may take an inflationary whirl and later dip to low levels.

Seed, livestock and equipment are a farmer's operating capital. Costs are higher and profits are less than they should be in many farms because the operators lack sufficient working capital and are using inferior seed and live stock and are trying to farm with obsolete and worn out equipment.

Off type and under finished livestock have glutted the market at some marketing points and are in the downward phase of the price cycle. Other off grade farm products which have no Government price support may find themselves in a similar position. All of which should be a warning that all farmers should be planned in such a way that only the best grain, live stock and other farm products will be produced.

High cost of production will probably continue for some time after prices drop. Farm incomes may decline and profits may shrink. Cost of production should therefore be reduced in every way possible.

Information compiled at the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, indicates that the best way

FIELD BINDWEED

DESTROYED BY HOGS

The success of a farmer of the Pincher Creek District in eradicating field bindweed will be of interest to those who are familiar with the persistence of this weed.

W R Hanson District Agriculturist at Cardston, reports that D. J. Cyr of Pincher Creek successfully eradicated bindweed by using the field as a hog pasture. The weed was first discovered in the garden where it was thought to have been introduced with flower seeds. It soon appeared in an adjoining field and rapidly spread over several acres. The field was fenced and sown at different times to annual and perennial pasture crops. The hogs did the rest.

Although plants of field bindweed still persist outside the fence and along the road in site of intense efforts to destroy them, no plants were found in the pasture during the past summer.
